

ZyVersa Therapeutics Announces Changes to ZyVersa's Board of Directors

May 19, 2023

WESTON, Fla., May 19, 2023 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- ZyVersa Therapeutics, Inc. (Nasdaq: ZVSA, or "ZyVersa"), a clinical stage specialty biopharmaceutical company developing first-in-class drugs for the treatment of renal and inflammatory diseases with high unmet medical needs, announces that two members of the Board of Directors have stepped down due to obligations associated with recent executive opportunities: Katrin Rupalla, PhD and Daniel O'Connor. Dr. Rupalla resigned from ZyVersa's Board of Directors to pursue an opportunity that precludes her ability to serve on any board of directors. Mr. O'Connor, the former CEO of Larkspur which merged with ZyVersa in December of 2022, has recently taken on the CEO role at Ambrx Biopharma and has resigned to focus on growth of his new company.

"On behalf of the Board of Directors and the team at ZyVersa, I would like to thank Dr. Rupalla and Mr. O'Connor for their impactful leadership during their tenure as Board members at ZyVersa," said Stephen C. Glover, Co-founder, Chairman, Chief Executive Officer, and President of ZyVersa. "As biopharmaceutical leaders with impeccable credentials and a proven track record of success, their knowledge and perspectives have been invaluable as we progress development of our company and our lead renal and anti-inflammatory assets."
